

Guess When U.S. Will Land Man On Moon; Win Free Trip Anywhere

Guess when the first American astronaut lands on the moon and you could win a two-week vacation anywhere on Earth.

That's the basis of a nationwide contest being sponsored by Graphic Newspapers and TODAY, the primary newspaper serving the Cape Kennedy area.

The contest was announced today by James M. Godbold, publisher of Graphic Newspapers, and Al Neuhrath, president of Gannett Florida, which includes TODAY.

Godbold and Neuhrath said the contest is open to any man, woman or child in the United States and is expected to attract hundreds of thousands of entries over the next several months. The contest will close May 1.

Anyone entering must guess the year, month, day, hour, minute and second that the first American astronaut steps onto the surface of the moon, based on Cape Kennedy time (Eastern Standard Time).

First prize for the entrant guessing closest to the official time registered by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will be a two-week, all-expense-paid vacation for two people any place on Earth they select.

Second prize will be a two-week, all-expense paid vacation at Cape Kennedy's Cocoa Beach to view a future space shot.

Other valuable merchandise will be awarded for the best

'Window' Dates for Moon Trip

For readers figuring when Americans will step foot on the Moon, the Space Agency has provided the "Windows for this Spring and Summer, the most likely times for the first landing attempt.

The Launch windows are those days when the Apollo spacecraft can reach pre-selected sites on the Moon.

The best "window" days include: April 18-24, May 17-23, June 16-22, July 15-22 and Aug. 14-21.

guesses entered by readers of Graphic Newspapers. Information on this phase of the contest will be published in the next few weeks.

The contest co-sponsors said in a joint statement:

"When the first American astronaut sets foot on the Moon, it will be a most eventful moment in the nation's history.

"TODAY, Florida's space age newspaper, serves the Cape Kennedy area and the men and women who operate America's moonport. This contest brings attention and pays tribute to our space program and the people of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Air Force and others who have made our space efforts so successful.

"Graphic Newspapers is delighted to co-sponsor the Moon contest and provide our readers the opportunity to participate in this exciting event."

Apartment Sites Create Major Zoning Problem

Apartment buildings are like garlic eaters -- they are alright if they keep their distance.

Where to permit erection of multiple dwellings has been a question some communities have found difficult to answer and Frankfort is one of them. The Frankfort village board has hopes, however, that it will be able to solve this problem at its next meeting, Feb. 17.

At that time it will have members of the plan commission and zoning board present with the hope that the three bodies will agree upon a policy of where to permit multiple dwellings.

If such an agreement is reached, the board of trustees is expected to make use of it at its meeting on the first Monday in March in deciding the fate of the proposed 12-unit apartment building Albert H. Krusemark has planned for the north side of Nebraska St. between Linden Drive and the east village limits.

There is farm land to the east, a railroad, commercial and industrial property to the north and residential property west and south. In fact practically all of the adjacent or nearby residential property was developed by Krusemark.

At a hearing before the Frankfort zoning board of appeals last Thursday night (it had been scheduled for the preceding week but continued at the request of Mr. Krusemark because of an eye condition) Krusemark asked for rezoning of the area from B-1, I-1, R-2 and R-1 to R-3, the classification for multiple housing.

He presented his plans for the building, showing photographs of interior and exterior treatment in standing buildings that he plans to follow.

The plans call for 75-foot set back from the front line, a car port at the rear of the unit with a closed top and one closed side that could be converted to a garage, plus one or two parking spaces per unit for use of visitors. Krusemark expressed the opinion that the type of apartment building he is planning would upgrade the area and added that $50,000 and $70,000 homes were across the street from such apartments in Hinsdale. He added that the space available was four times greater than the required 1,600 sq. ft. of ground for each living unit.

There were a score or more persons present at the hearing and one of the questions raised was whether such a building in that location would strain the water and sewer facilities. Apparently it was answered to their satisfaction for when Henry Messell, board chairman, twice asked if anyone present had any objections to the rezoning requested no one spoke up and the zoning board unanimously approved the petition.

Before the week ended, however, Leonard Gromnicke, one of the adjacent property owners, complained to Mayor Glenn Warning that not enough people knew of the hearing and that they had not made any objections there because they didn't know how to go about it. He told the mayor that he had a petition signed by 31 property owners objecting to the rezoning and that he intended to file same with the village clerk. The mayor invited him to bring his fellow objectors to the village board meeting and that he would give them 15 minutes to present their case. A formal petition objecting to the acts of a zoning board, if it is signed by 20 per cent of the adjacent and adjoining property owners who state under oath they do comprise such a segment and are owners of the land, requires three quarters of the village board, or six members, to concur in the recommendation of the zoning board.

The petition on file Monday night did not meet the legal requirements but the trustees permitted the petitioners to amend it so it met the approval of Village Attorney August Santoro.

Gromnicke, Roy Page and Walter Johnson then addressed the board as spokesman for the objectors, following pretty much the lines in the petition. They contend the apartment building would depreciate their property, that it would increase traffic to the hazard of the 68 children who live in the neighborhood and to the detriment of the streets. The area is developing slowly, they said, and that is the way they want it.

Gromnicke pointed out that no one wanted apartments built alongside their property, that when attempts had been made to put them in other sections of town the residents there, north, south, west and east, all objected. Apartments, he believes, should be built out in the country, so to speak, so that if people built single family dwelling around them later they would do so by choice.

On a motion by Trustee Robert Dean the board withheld action on the recommendations of the zoning board until the first Monday in March. Meantime he and other members of the board hope they can reach an agreement Feb. 17 on where to allow multiple dwellings within the village or to refuse to allow them.

Passersby Prevent Serious Farm Fire

Two passing motorists from Manhattan saved Lawrence Kohl from a serious fire loss early Sunday morning.

The Kohl residence and several farm buildings are on 191st St., on the eastern fringe of Mokena. Sometime before 2 o'clock Sunday morning someone placed a blazing street flare against the south wall of a corn crib.

The crib had just caught on fire when the two young men who were traveling west on 191st saw the blaze and awakened Kohl. With their help Kohl was able to extinguish the blaze. Meanwhile, the Mokena Fire Department was called and a crew from there headed by Chief Robert Rust checked the structure to make sure the fire was out.

Had the blaze gone unnoticed for another 15 minutes, Chief Rust said, the entire crib would have been afire and with the wind have spread to the other buildings before it could have been brought under control.

The flare used to set the fire had been placed in the center of the road at the east end of 191st St. to illuminate a barricade. Because of its icy condition Highway Commissioner Walter Yunker had closed 191st from the east end to Wolf Rd.

Mr. Kohl, who has farmed at Mokena for many years, was one of the organizers of the Lincoln-Way High School district and served on its first board.

Contest Winners Taxed On Prizes

Taxpayers who were lucky winners in sweepstakes, raffles or give-away shows should report the fair market value of the prize on federal income tax returns, said E.C. Coyle, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue Service.

Coyle said that if the prize is an item of merchandise its fair market value should be reported. Generally, the fair market value is what the item would cost if the taxpayer were to purchase it at a retail store.

Salesmen who win prizes or receive awards in company sales or promotion contests are also subject to tax on the value of the prize. Such gifts would include vacation trips to resort areas, shares of stock or merchandise.

Awards received by employees for contributions to company suggestion plans are also taxable and should be reported as income.

One type of prize is not subject to tax, Coyle said. These are prizes received in recognition of past achievements in religious, charitable, scientific, educational, artistic, literary or civic fields, without action on the recipient's part.

For more detailed information, write for Publication 525, "Taxable Income and Nontaxable Income," from the District director, Tax Forms, Box 1193, Chicago, Illinois 60690.

Sandburg Students Visit South Dakota Badlands

The Badlands of South Dakota will ring to the shouts of ten Carl Sandburg High School students from Feb. 8 to 25, as the suburbanites participate in the first phase of an exchange program with students from Rapid City, S.D., under the sponsorship of the Sandburg student council and the Southwest YMCA. Rapid City, the second largest city in South Dakota with a population of over 40,000, is located in the southwest corner of the state. Its major industry is classified as agriculture.

On Jan. 23, a team of seven adult interviewers screened the 40 applicants from Sandburg who applied to be representatives on the exchange program. The adult interviewers included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindau, Mrs. Roy Fox, Mrs. Jesse Powell, Walter Dotterer, Jim Marshall, and Mrs. Lois Zakarias.

After personally interviewing all the students a choice of ten was made. "It was an exceedingly difficult choice to make", commented one of the interviewers. "We each talked to about four students, and each of the adults was convinced that his particular four applicants should go. We were all impressed with the qualifications and the social ease of all the candidates". I repeat, "It was a tough job".

Those selected to go were Scott Luebbing, Patty Gildroy, Tom Buddig, Jim Brandt, Gary Kukac, Bruce Novak, Kathryn Higgins, Lynn Karbowski, Joyce Steinborn, and Raynella Zabelski.

Each Sandburg participant will live in a private home while attending Rapid City's only public high school with a host teenager.

The exchanges will travel with their adult advisor,

Michael Coglianese, assistant principal, to Minneapolis on Northwest Airlines at 8:13 a.m., Feb. 8 from Midway Airport. At Minneapolis they will be transported to Rapid City on Western Airlines. After a week of sight-seeing, fun, meeting new friends, and getting acquainted on a 'one to one' basis, the ten exchanges will return to Midway at 4:15 p.m., Feb. 15.

Fifty dollars of the cost per person will be paid by the individual student. Sandburg's student council has underwritten some of the cost of the program, amounting to approximately $20 more per person, for transportation.

The second phase of the exchange program will take place in the spring, when ten students from Rapid City, will come to visit the big, wide wonderful world of Sandburg High School.

Those Vikings! They Rout Knights, 82-68

In the early English Church there was a line in the litany asking deliverance from the Viking raiders who plundered and generally raised hob with the Britons. There are basketball teams in the Southwest Suburban Conference today who would join in that prayer but the Vikings they are thinking about are those sharp shooting basketeers from Homewood-Flossmoor.

So far the Viking outfit has polished off every team in the conference and appear likely to continue with their depredations.

Lincoln-Way, which has been doing very well on the basketball courts this year, encountered the Vikings last Friday and took an 82 to 68 beating.

The Knights have the consolation of knowing that at one time in the first quarter they led 5 to 3 and later made it 12 to 5 but that didn't hold up very long.

The Vikings ran off 10 points in a row in the second quarter and at half time led 41 to 22. The Knights held them fairly close in the third quarter, chalking up 17 points to the Vikings 25 and in the final frame the Lincoln-Ways outscored H-F 29-20. But it is that total score that counts and the Vikings had too much of that at the end.

Kabees (Vikings) was high man for the night with 24. A teammate Bodee had 16, McGran and Baldwin 11 each, Niems, eight, and Spith and Messer had six each.

On the Lincoln-Way side Harold Webb had 20 points, Palka, 16, Otto, 11, Ryan, 10, Minger, four, Loucks, three and Istel and Smith, two each.

Homewood-Flossmoor has a 9-0 record in conference play but outside of its own loop it has been beaten five times while winning 11. The Vikings can clinch the title this weekend by tapping Bremen.

Lincoln-Way has six wins in conference play and three defeats with a 10-9 overall picture. The H.F. sophs have won their 13 starts, downing their opposite numbers at Lincoln-Way, 65-32.

Jenny Otto A Winner In Astrodome Relays

Jenny Otto, 16-year-old junior at Lincoln-Way High School who skims over hurdles like they were thresholds, won the 60-yd. low hurdle event for women in the Astrodome Federation Relays at Houston, Tex., the night of Jan. 24.

She traveled the course in 7.9 seconds, her best time in the event, and in winning beat the girl who edged her out for the Olympics, Judy Dyer.

From Houston, she flew to Albuquerque, N.M. where she competed the following night in the Albuquerque Invitational where she placed third.

Jenny, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Claude W. Otto, is definitely in the big time but it's not easy. She works out several times a week after school under the tutelage of Jim Santos, coach of the Chicago Heights Track Club. She is also a good student at Lincoln-Way.

Sandburg Defeats Mustangs, 65-60

The Sandburg High School basketball team nosed out Evergreen Park last Friday night, 65 to 60.

The Eagles started out strong and was leading 23 to 12 at the close of the first quarter but slowed down in the second stanza when they scored only 10 points while the Mustangs rammed in 19 tallies so at half time it was Sandburg, 33, Evergreen Park 31.

The Eagles staved off the Mustangs in the second half and held on to win with five points to spare.

Sandburg outscored the Mustangs 28 to 23 in baskets from the floor but the losers netted more free throws, 14 to 9.

Kleinfeldt and McBride each scored 18 points for Sandburg. Kleinfeldt had eight baskets and two free tosses while McBride cages six buckets and six free throws. Devine was next with six baskets for 12 points and Richards had five for 10 tallies. Ferguson had a basket and a free throw for three points and Borg and Sloan each scored a bucket.

Scheel, of the Evergreens, was high point man for the evening with 19 points, seven baskets and five free tosses. Good was next with seven baskets and two charity heaves for 16. Friedman had one bucket and six free throws for 10; Zdenek had three and one for seven counters and Sulp had three buckets for six points. Ahnssen had two points on a basket.

New Heart Disease Detector

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

Doctors have been saying for a long time that if they had a way of obtaining early evidence of heart disease they could save a majority of the million individuals who die of it each year.

But there are just not enough medically trained personnel or medical facilities for screening entire populations by conventional methods.

Now a small and clever device recently unveiled in Los Angeles promises to be the practical solution. It can tell within a minute whether the average person has a heart problem.

Called the ElectroCardio-Analyzer (ECA), it is a finger-operated computer no larger than the portable short wave radio it resembles. Thiokol Chemical Corp. developed it, and cardiologists have given it extensive clinical evaluation.

cal evaluation.

Over the last two years they have screened large groups with it and have then compared the individual findings with those made on each person by heart specialists. The ECA has shown a convincing degree of accuracy.

The ECA is so compact that it can be carried by hand into a factory or office building, where an easily trained operator can screen more than 100 individuals a day.

The operator connects the person to be tested to the ECA with six quickly applied attachments that resemble the leads of an electro-cardiograph machine.

These leads transmit electrical signals from the heart to the computer, where they are instantly analyzed. Tiny lights on the front panel report the findings.

Should the lights disclose a heart condition, the operator can then urge the person to see his doctor.

The ECA screening procedure cannot and is not intended to replace the annual and essential physical examination by a physician.

It is designed, however, to be a rapid means of discovering individuals with heart problems that require further evaluation and treatment.

Because the majority of individuals who die of heart disease are workers in industry and are in the prime of life, the first mass screenings will be done in large industrial plants.

A companion ECA, designed especially for children, has already begun mass screening of children in certain areas.

STRAW PURIFIER — Purity Water Filter Co. of Phoenix has developed a five-inch long plastic tube that looks like a whistle. It will purify polluted water that is drawn up through it, and make it palatable.

CORNEAL LENS — Called an EKP, a newly developed plastic lens can be placed over a damaged cornea to give protection and relief from pain. Dr. Herbert E. Kaufman of the University of Florida bonds it directly to the eye tissue.

POTENTIAL DRUGS — Dr. Richard E. Skeltes has just returned to Harvard from the jungles of the Amazon with information about narcotics and pain-killing medicines used by the natives.

BEWARE — Because there have been so many deaths and injuries as a result of swallowing charcoal lighter fluid, especially among the very young, the FDA warns parents to watch where they place containers.

FLOWERING NUT

The peanut begins as a flower. After the flower withers and falls off, the stalk-like stem, called a peg, pushes down into the ground. Its tip then swells and grows into a peanut pod. Most pods ripen 120 to 150 days after the seeds are planted.

Walt Dizzy, the Cartoon Computer

Copyright 1969 World Book Science Service

Computers may be in the animated cartoon business one of these days!

Nobody really thinks they will have the creativity and imagination of a Walt Disney, of course.

But they can save artists a tremendous amount of time and hard work.

Animated cartoons are often made by a slow, tedious process.

Each frame of a film has to be drawn by an artist, with the backgrounds staying exactly right and figures changing position from frame to frame.

Then the frames are photographed. When you see the pictures in rapid succession, it looks like the characters are moving.

How can computers help? By reproducing those parts of the pictures that change in simple ways -- the appearance of the walls of a room as the characters move about, for example.

Computers are very good at that kind of detail work. But that's not all the computer can do.

The artist can make just two drawings -- one of his character in a starting position and the second in the final position.

The artist then turns his work over to the mathematicians, who in turn give the computer a mathematical equation which describes all the motions that had to take place in between.

All this information, including the two pictures the artist drew, goes into the computer.

Before you can say "Woody the Woodpecker" the computer produces a nice, smooth sequence of action pictures that are ready to be photographed.

In the meantime, the artist can be working on another series for his assistant, the computer, to complete.

The two pictures you see here are supposed to be exactly the same. But somebody goofed. Can you find the six differences in the right-hand picture?

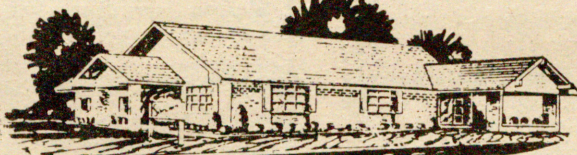

ANSWERS: cat's whiskers, mouse hole, patch on rear right hindquarter of cat, shorter tail on cat, right-hand mouse has different tail, patch on tail of cat.

The great white heron is usually seen only in Florida.

The Thirty Years War was fought mainly in Germany.

Confederate President Jefferson Davis was a student and married while living in Natchez, Miss.

The bride, Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hangstefer of Kodiak. Judy graduated from Kodiak High School and was employed as a bookkeeper of King Crat, Inc.

The groom, Michael was a graduate of Lincoln-Way High School and was employed as a engineer and first mate aboard the M/V Marten.

The newly married couple is now residing in Mokena.

CLAUDIA RUTH WOOD -- Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, of Oblong, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Claudia Ruth, to Kim S. Osmus, Frankfort, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Osmus, Frankfort.

Howard is an aviation technology graduate of Southern Illinois University and is presently enrolled at Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa, majoring in physical education.

Miss Wood is a sophomore at S.I.U., majoring in marine biology. No wedding date has been decided upon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brandon M. Elias, formerly of Mokena and now of Rockville, Md. Mr. Pierce of Wheaton, Md.

The nuptial mass with a double-ring ceremony was celebrated by Rev. Francis Benham at 11 o'clock, Saturday, Dec. 21. Wedding selections were sung by Eric Isenstedt, a mutual friend of the bride and groom.

Escorted up the aisle by her father, the bride wore a toe-touching fitted, long-sleeved sculptured velvet gown that had a high neckband and soft princess lines. Her all lace veil with long train had a mantilla effect and carried the rose design throughout the lace. The bride carried an overflowing of white roses and streamers of holly.

Preceding the bride up the aisle were the ushers, Brian Elias, her brother, Philip Killiam, and Lance Hjulberg. All wore traditional tails as did the best man, Steve Pierce, brother of groom.

Identically gowned were the maids of honor, Deborah Elias, and Lora Schoen, both bride's sisters, Becky Pierce and Kathy Hjulberg, sisters of the groom. Their dresses were of Christmas green velvet in the same styling of the bride. A large flat velvet bow was worn in their hair. They carried fur muffs that had been covered in white satin. Pinned to these were sprigs of holly with red sweetheart roses in place of berries.

The ring-bearer, Douglas Pierce, 4-year-old brother of the groom was dressed in green velvet Eton suit and white satin shirt. All the gowns and suit were made by the bride.

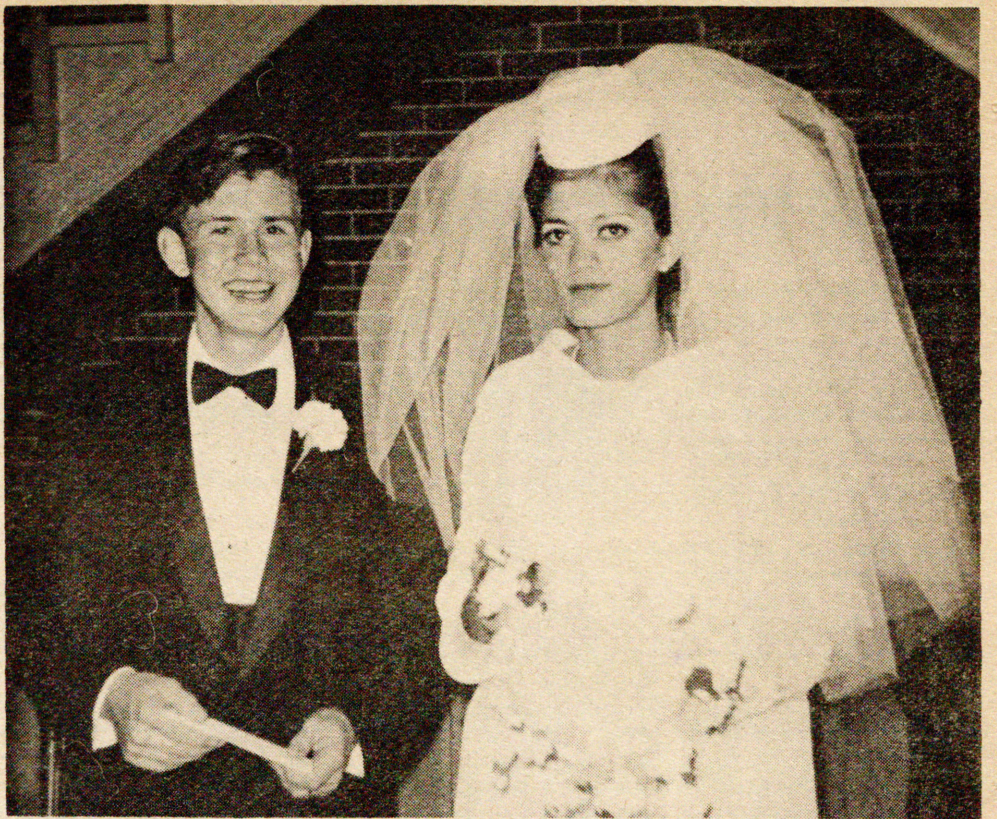

After the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served at the Rossborough Inn, Faculty Club, of the University of Maryland, where the groom graduated last June.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Elias wore a pink silk worsted sheath with a matching full length coat. The coat had a stand-up collar and simple princess lines with three-quarter sleeves. She wore a white ostrich feather hat with pink velvet ribbon peeking thru. White kid gloves, pink shoes and bag matched her ensemble, with a sprig of holly and tiny red roses pinned to her handbag.

The bride-groom's mother wore a pale blue wool a-line dress with long sleeves. Tiny white lace frosted the neckline and wrists. She wore a veil trimmed in fur to match her fur stole. Her shoes also matched her dress and her red rose corsage added a spark of color.

The newly-weds had a honeymoon in New York City and are now residing in Tupelo, Miss.

The bride and her family formerly lived in Arbory Hills and she was a graduate of St. Mary's Grade School and attended Lincoln-Way High School three years before her family moved to Maryland. She has been attending Montgomery College the past two years and will resume her studies shortly. The groom is now affiliated with the National Park Service as a Ranger.

MR. AND MRS. Hal Shroats, who were united in marriage Nov. 10, 1968, are now residing at 20 Willow Creek Dr., Chickasaw Hills. The bride is the former Linda Langhurst of Tinley Park. The vows were exchanged in the Orland Park Methodist Church.

Donna Martin, John Blum Exchange Wedding Vows

Wedding promises were recited by Donna Jean Martin and John Charles Blum at an 11:00 o'clock nuptial mass Saturday, Nov. 30 at St. Jude's Church in New Lenox.

The Rev. Andre Schludecker, O.F.M., officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Martin, R.R. No. 1, New Lenox and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Blum, 423 Table St., Lockport.

Twin bouquets of red and white carnations decorated the altar of the church. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white bridal satin. Seed pearls and sequins highlighted the bodice and sleeves of alencon lace. Tiny self-covered buttons detailed the smocked back of the dress and the full length cathedral train was appliqued in alencon lace. Her blusher veil of imported silk illusion was fastened to a wedding ring headpiece of matching alencon lace, sequins and seed pearls. Her jewelry consisted of a single strand of cultured pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a cascade of white carnations with a ring of baby red roses.

Miss Nancy Beebe performed the duties of maid-of-honor. She wore a toe-touching A-line gown of scarlet velvet with long sleeves accented at the wrist with three tiers of white lace. Her veil was attached to a seed pearl, trimmed velvet flower, and she carried a bouquet of white and red carnations with red velvet ribbon intertwined in the bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kathleen Carnahan, sister of the groom, Mrs. Sherry Bormet, and the flower girl was Tammy Blum. They were all gowned identically to the maid-of-honor.

David Munch performed the duties of best man. Ushers were John Olota, Douglas Carlson, Joseph House, Larry, William and David Martin, brothers of the bride, and Jim Carnahan. Ring bearer was Ricky Kempke.

The reception was 7 til 11 p.m. at Van Dyne's Hall in Joliet.

Mrs. Martin selected for her daughter's wedding and reception a royal blue dress and coat ensemble trimmed with white buttons and black accessories and a white corsage of baby mums.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Blum, was attired in an aqua two-piece ribbon knit suit with harmonizing accessories and a white corsage of baby mums.

When the couple left on their honeymoon the new Mrs. Blum was dressed in a brown coat dress and matching accessories.

The couple are now residing at 1024 W. Howard Ave., Biloxi, Miss., where Mr. Blum is stationed with the U.S. Air Force.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Nancy Beebe, Mrs. Sherry Bormet, Mrs. Sue Ann Gardner, Mrs. Cathleen Carnahan, Miss Carry Blum, Mrs. Erma Hausser, Mrs. Bonnie Kempke and Mrs. Luella Keener.

Viking Kitchen Carpet is for women who don't believe in kitchen carpet.

It really works. Come in and let us prove it!

Come watch us smear oil over it. Spill grapejuice on it. Scrub it with a stiff wire brush. Put a lighted cigarette out on it. Prove to you that Viking Kitchen Carpet can take all the actions and accidents in the kitchen (and nursery, playroom, basement, dining room!) and come up looking like new.

And Viking is carpet — the Real Thing. Not felt, not pressed fiber, not grass — but carpet! Beautiful, warm, cushiony, sop-up noise, non-skid carpet. Engineered to go where carpet never could before . . . to take all the dirty work out of keeping up your floors. No more waxing, buffing or de-waxing. Just a light vacuuming, an occasional sponging, and that's it!*

Scott Proposes Police College For Illinois

Attorney General William J. Scott has presented to Gov. Ogilvie's new committee on criminal justice a planning proposal for a "West Point" type police academy for Illinois.

Scott's proposal, which was co-sponsored by Supt. of Schools Ray Page, was developed by leading Illinois educators.

Scott told the committee he believes a four-year college degree is vital for police who must cope with today's increasingly complex law enforcement problems.

"On - the - beat training alone is just not adequate when police must deal with civil disorders, racial unrest, and the still-exploding crime rate," he declared. "We need to pioneer in the field of police training and establish a police college that will be a model for all the states. Its curriculum should be carefully thought out, carefully planned -- tempering police training with such other courses as sociology and psychology, and incorporating in the classrooms the best of new scientific crime-control equipment."

Scott said the new academy should be located on one of the existing state university campuses to take advantage of existing facilities.

In making the proposal, Scott was keeping a campaign pledge. He had advocated the four-year police academy during his campaign for Attorney General describing the four-year degree course as a constructive step in the battle for justice and order.

After being appointed to the Governor's committee by Governor Richard Ogilvie, Attorney General Scott gave the police college plan priority by making it the first of a number of steps he will advocate in a far-ranging crime-control program for Illinois.

The Attorney General asked the committee to include the proposed College of Police Science in the master Illinois crime-control plan which will be funded by money from the 1968 Federal Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act.

Details of the new state police college plan were drawn up by Dr. Joseph R. Ellis, educational research and services coordinator of the College of Education, Northern Illinois University, and Edward M. Vass, program development consultant of the research coordinating unit of the state's division of vocational and technical education.

Mothers Club Enjoys "Trip To Ireland"

At the January meeting of the Providence Mothers Club, approximately 100 mothers met in the Audio-Visual Room at the school and enjoyed hearing Br. Sebastian, F.S.C., a member of the faculty, tell of his recent trip to Ireland. Br. Sebastian traced his tour from the beginning at O'Hare Field to Shannon Airport in Dublin. He painted a vivid and interesting commentary of scenes in Ireland, people he met and places he visited. The audience delighted in his "armchair" trip through the land of St. Patrick and many areas of the continent as well.

The business meeting was opened with a prayer by Sister Janet, moderator of the Mothers Club and assistant principal at the school. Mrs. Donald Nugent, president introduced Verne Ridings who presented a report on the finances of the school. It was also pointed out that it would be an excellent project to write legislators in Springfield urging aid to parochial schools. A letter regarding this will be sent to all mothers. Bradley Swanson, a member of the faculty, asked the mothers to take an active part in recruiting for next year.

The annual style show will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 26 in the gym. Mrs. Ned Viano and Mrs. Harry Tapella will be general chairmen.

Because of the style show there will be no regular meeting of the Mothers Club in February. The next meeting will be held on Mar. 19, with the husbands as guests.

KAREN JEANNIE ERICKSON -- Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Erickson, Route 1, New Lenox, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Jeannie, to Herman Robert Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Beck, Pottowattomie Lane, New Lenox.

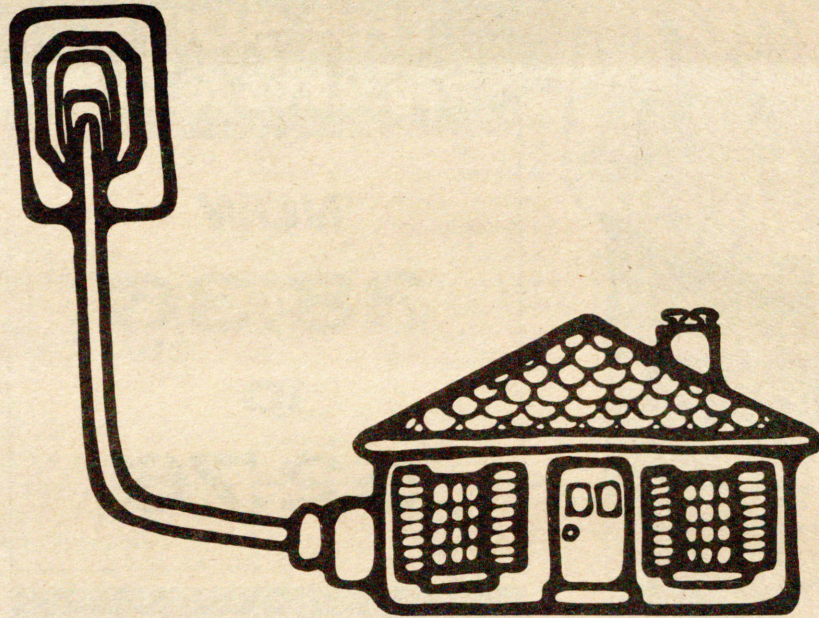

No date has been set for the marriage.

Miss Erickson, a graduate of Lincoln-Way High School, is employed by Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc., Chicago.

Mr. Beck, also a graduate of Lincoln-Way High School, has gone to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Tex., where he will be stationed for his basic training.

What's a year's worth of electric heat cost?

Hint: Think small.

The fact is, electric heat costs have come down so much in the last ten years, that sometimes it surprises even us. Of course, we've done our best to help, by lowering electric rates dramatically during that period.

Actually, you pay about $200 a year for electric heat in a typical six-room house with proper insulation—the kind most people buy.

It all boils down to the fact that you don't have to make a lot of money to have electric heat in your home.

So don't be surprised if someday we say "Think tiny."

L-W Polar Bears A Hardy, Speedy Lot

There is an extra-extra-curricular program at Lincoln-Way High School. It is extra-extra because extra-curricular projects are really a part of the school program but this one belongs to Joe Rodriguez and the Polar Bears.

Joe Rodriguez is track coach at Lincoln-Way. The Polar Bears are 75 or 80 of the runningest kids, boys and girls, to be found any place. Some 40 girls and 35 boys make up the pack.

That piece written about the intrepid mail carriers who make their appointed rounds despite heat, rain, wind, snow or sleet is descriptive of the Polar Bears of Lincoln-Way.

They run when the rain is coming down. They run when it's warm, they run when it's sub-zero, they run in snow and manage to find footing when there is ice.

Letters To The Editor

HAS QUESTIONS

Dear Sir:

In reading a report of a village board meeting I notice that no one had taken out petitions to run for mayor and the three places for trustees that will come up in April.

Surely there must be some civic minded men who are willing to give of their time and effort to improve our village. It's not easy, but what does come easy that is worthwhile?

I can think of several retired business executives who would be qualified for mayor and some fine men who would do justice to the trustee positions.

While I'm about it -- was $600 paid to have the village yellow truck painted green to match the small one?

Is it true the $30,000 surplus water fund has been used?

Why aren't the people of Mokena told about these things?

Isn't it any of our business?

Sincerely,
Mary Steinhagen

South Vietnam now has 30 textile mills as compared to only one in 1955.

To be a Polar Bear Bear the boys must run 600 miles in three months, the girls must log 200 miles in that time. They began running Nov. 18 and most of them are on schedule, some ahead of their time table.

Another thing about it. The kids run because they want to. It's fun. That they are enthusiastic about the whole business is not surprising. This Rodriguez is very personable, enthusiastic kind of guy. His enthusiasm is infectious as well as contagious.

So much so that this writer fears to talk to him more than once a week - and briefly - because if he did, he would at least try to run.

Rodriguez is a native of West Virginia and a graduate of New Mexico Highland College. He has coached all sports and participated in all sports in high school and college except the one he is now coaching -- track. Coach Rodriguez is in his second year on the staff at Lincoln-Way. Last year his track team showed considerable improvement and his cross country team, after taking numerous local titles, including the SWS Conference, finished up third in the state finals at Champaign.

Rodriguez hopes to organize some track meets next summer in which girls may participate, as well as boys. Thru the winter months he has been taking his Polar Bears to the University of Chicago field house twice a month -- girls and boys -- where they compete in any running events that are on, mostly against collegians with whom they hold their own very well.

The girls run 60 yards instead of 100, and the 440 and 440-yard relay. The boys run any distance from the 100 to three miles and some have run the 10,000 meter. In English the 10,000 meter is six miles.

Dave Merrick, 15 year-old sophomore from Mokena, has run the 10,000 in 32 minutes, the two mile in 9:52 and the mile in 4:34. Rodriguez believes David is the best distance runner for his age in the country and Bob Timmons who coaches the world famous Jim Ryun of Kansas, agrees. Timmons has seen and timed Merrick running and told Rodriguez that Dave is ahead of where Ryun was at the same age.

Lincoln-Way has another boy who is expected to make his mark in the distance field -- Lee Erickson, of New Lenox, a freshman who has just turned 15. Coach Rodriguez says that Erickson is ahead of what Merrick was a year ago.

"There is a moment of truth in every race," said Coach Rodriguez, "and in those more than a quarter of a mile it could be called the pain barrier. Conquer the pain barrier and you can become a winner."

That's a lesson that could be applied to every endeavor.

INCOME TAX SERVICE

TAXPERT DOES MUCH MORE THAN COMPLETE YOUR INCOME TAX RETURN

- Taxpert's copyrighted Income Tax Guide List helps you collect and organize all your income tax data quickly. (See free offer below).
- In a confidential interview a skilled interviewer reviews your data, reminds you of deductions, exemptions, and income credits you may have overlooked, weighs merits of all available tax options.
- A high speed IBM computer processes your return, performs all calculations, automatically chooses your most economical tax table, computes the total tax or refund due, as it prints copies of your final return.

The modern way to avoid income tax overpayment and protect your hard earned savings!

Those who prepare their own income tax returns probably think they are saving money. Actually they may be paying far more than Uncle Sam wants them to pay. And not know it!

Any hand prepared return is subject to human errors. In arithmetic. In choice of tax table. In failure to note certain tax saving options. Simply transcribing from work sheets to final return can cause others. Any of the easy-to-make mistakes can cost you many extra tax dollars!

Taxpert's IBM computer cannot make such mistakes. It catches and corrects any and all computation and filing errors as it works to save you money. A Taxpert return is your assurance that you are not paying a penny more than you are legally bound to pay.

Taxpert will pay any penalty or interest

JOSEPH P. MILLER WHO PASSED AWAY FEBRUARY
8, 1967
Two years have passed since that sad day.
When the one we loved was called away the call was sudden, the shock severe with little thought that death was near. He was gone before we knew it. And only God knows why. His busy hands are resting now His work on earth is done. His worries are all over now and his heavenly crown is won. Our hearts still ache with loneliness. Our eyes shed many tears. Only those who have lost can tell the pain of parting without farewell while he rests in peaceful sleep. His memory we will always keep.
Sweetie I Miss you so.

Begin Visual Motor Training Program In Mokena School

A new program that incorporates the use of visual-motor training has been started by the Mokena School District 159. The primary purpose of the new program is to help each child develop their visual and motor skills.

Visual perception as used in this program, is the ability to recognize and discriminate visual stimuli and to interpret those stimuli by associating them with previous experiences. Visual perception is not merely the ability to see accurately. Interpretation of visual stimuli occurs in the brain, not in the eyes. Visual perception is involved in nearly every action we take. Proficiency in visual perception helps children to learn to read, write, and spell, to do arithmetic, and to develop other skills necessary for success in school work.

Motor development refers to the development of the skills that must be performed by the large and small muscles of the body. The motor skills are developed by using informal games, rhythms, and play activities. Good body balance is an important concept that is emphasized. Movement skills such as crawling, hopping, jumping, skipping, and galloping are presented to the students. The development of eye-hand coordination is also introduced by receiving instruction of the simple two-handed push pass with both arms used in unison.

The new program is being used with one class of kindergarten children and a few selected first graders. The children have been screened and will be screened again at the end of the program to determine any improvement.

Ten volunteer mothers were selected and have participated in two training sessions. Mothers assist the teacher in the motor skills development three days a week. Each mother is assigned to work with four students.

This new program in no sense will be a cure-all to all the learning problems faced by our children, but is another technique that will reach and help a few more children.
